STANDING in the shadow of the Menotomy Indian, John Mugar, spokesman for the Star Market Co., told the Selectmen about the plans his company has for the Town Yard property if sold to Star.

Star Cites Three Aids To Town By Land Sale

At the Selectmen's meeting this week, the Development Commission introduced three representatives of the Star Market Co. in reference to the opposition staged last week by the merchants of Arlington to Star's proposal to purchase the Old Town Yard.

Thomas Bilodeau, one spokesman for the Star Market Co., stated that Star was aware of the problems involved and offered three benefits for the town of Arlington from the land being sold to Star.

No. 1 was the price itself and No. 2 was the taxes which would range from $20,000 to $25,000. As to how long, he said that they would start to build 90 days after purchase of the land. The building itself will be one

Railroad Says 'No' On Service

The Board of Selectmen recently sent a letter to the Boston & Maine Railroad to appeal for service in Arlington. The train now leaves North Station at 5:31 and must go to Lexington for Arlington passengers to disembark.

Since the train goes through Arlington Center, it would be patronized by the residents in the evening, if it were to stop.

On Jan. 21, Mr. G. F. Gallagher, a spokesman for the railroad, said, "The increased service which is presently being operated by the B. & M. Railroad is an experimental service and as such, has increased since in some of its segments, however, there are few areas wherein the service will be studied in the hope that some determination can be reached. No changes can be made at the present time."

"Since the area in question has been declared M.T.A. territory, the Railroad will not compete with the M.T.A."

$2,700 For Symmes

At the January meeting of the Symmes Hospital Women's Aid Association, it was voted to donate $2,700 to the hospital as follows:

$2,000 to be added to the Association's pledge of $6,000 for a Meditation room in the new wing. Inasmuch as the Association had donated $2,000 in 1962, this amount makes total donation $4,000.

It was also voted to spend $700 for the purchase of the following equipment: one stretcher bed, two patient rollers, and one suction machine.

Only two contests for major office loom in the 1963 annual Town Election, plus many no-contests for Town Meeting member for the full or various unexpired terms.

This was revealed Monday at 5 p.m. — the deadline for filing nomination papers — by Town Clerk Ann Mahon.

For the first time in many years, the re-running incumbents go unchallenged. Enjoying a free ride this year are Richard W. Baker, Mary K. Carter and Arthur F. Coughlin.

As usual, there will be a contest for the office of Selectman. The Town's top position is always under fire because it controls the overall policy plus, through the Town Manager, most of the departments.

For Selectman, two seats are open which are held currently by Joseph P. Greeley and Horace H. Homer, present chairman. Both are re-running for the 5-man board. These incumbents are facing three challengers.

They are Anthony Caterino of 18 Williams st., Edward J. Murray of 107 Highland ave., and Jesse A. Rogers of 65 Kensington park.

It will be recalled that Murray surprised many local

Boys' Club Wins Craft Honors

Although the swimming pool and gymnasium are very popular departments in the Arlington Boys' club, equally popular are the variety craft class and the ceramics and woodworking classes.

Last Saturday morning, 6 boys — 2 from each of the craft classes — travelled to the Boys' club in Manchester, N. H., to compete in a N. E. Regional Arts & Crafts contest. There were about 75 boys competing from various Boys' Clubs and the work displayed was varied and original.

Arlington club was awarded 1st prize and brought back an attractive trophy with the inscription "1963 New England Arts & Crafts Competition."

The boys enjoyed participating in the various game activities in the Manchester club, and were served an enjoyable lunch.

The following boys exhibited: ceramics — Arty Phillips, cigarette box, sugar and creamer; Randy Pass, sugar and creamer; Edward Foristall, sugar and creamer; woodworking — Johnny Mulcahy, Colonial bookcase; John O'Brien, book holder; Stephen Briand, glass tray and slanting bookshelf; Jay Easton, modernistic bookcase and bookrack; Robert Bachelier, mail box; Brian Kelley, pipe holder; Francis Vaughn, bird feeder; Michael Sirsky, bird house; Richard Andreoli, footstool; Jackie Lyons, small tool box; Stephen Hamway, tie holder; Michael Cisco, large tool box.

Variety class — Michael Tobin, Washington & Lincoln statuettes & Tiki totem pole; Billy Comeau, church made from craft sticks and Polynesian head from plaster molding; John A'hern, family plate and spider and web, made on a coat hanger; David Carey, mosaic ash tray and styrofoam Christmas wreath.

Storage Building Razed By Three-Alarm Blaze

Firemen battled for three hours Monday night to bring under control a 3-alarm blaze of undetermined origin at 7 Swan place, which gutted the 2-story storage building there and caused an estimated $25,000 damage.

The wooden building, owned and occupied for business by Nicholas Gold of 72 Morningstar dr., and located at the rear of One-Stop Cleaners, was called a total loss by fire officials.

Alarms sounded at 7:15 7:18 and 7:26 brought aid to local firefighters from Cambridge, Somerville, Medford, Winchester, Lexington and Belmont. More than 50 men participated in extinguishing the blaze.

Damages from fire, smoke and water resulted to several other structures in the area, but left the near-by cleaning concern unmarked.

Protected by a brick wall behind the One-Stop building, the roof was used by firemen as a vantage point from which to play the hose on the blazing structure.

Scorching from the heat of the fire was caused to a

Shea Leading Scorer In 3-Way Pee-Wee Tie.

Canadiens 0 Leafs 0:

The Leafs dealt a blow to the Canadiens title hopes by holding them to a scoreless tie. The Canadiens who have been weakened by the loss of veteran Jim Pories have failed to score in their last two games.

The Leafs played good defensive hockey and covered the Canucks closely. Fine goal tending by Kenny Brusgulis played a big part in holding off the Canadiens attack.

Rockets 2 Rangers 0:

Goals by John Lynch and Jim Bina led the rising Rockets to a 2-0 shut out over the ragged Rangers. Lynch scored when he took a corner passout from Tony Lyons and banged it home.

Bina added the insurance goal when he blazed a 30 footer into the cage after taking a pass from Kevin McNeely. John Jackson held off the Rangers with some great saves.

Bruins 5 Maroons 0:

The unpredictable Bruins went on a rampage and poured five goals into the Maroons' net. Dan Diskin performed his second hat trick of the season with three markers. He also earned an assist. Richie Walker and Bob Bartholomew also scored for the Bruins.

Charlie Belluche got his first point of the season with an assist on Diskin's third goal. The Maroons had very few scoring opportunities.

Black Hawks 4 Wings 1:

Led by Bill Shea, the scoring Hawks belted the undefeated Wings 4-1 and moved up top with the Canadiens and Wings. It was an "all Shea day" as Bill banged in four goals and Bob Shea tallied the lone goal for the losers. Scoring opened early as Bill Shea picked up a loose puck at his own line and went all the way.

About a minute later Bob popped one in from 10 feet after taking a feed from Bob Green. That was it for the Wings as the Hawks hustled and back-checked to prevent the Wings from shooting.

In the meantime, Shea added three more goals, a high for the season. Jerry Quanci made his first start in the nets and came up with a couple of dandy saves for the Hawks.

AHS Tied For GBI 3rd, Defeat Somerville 4-1

Arlington High stickmen moved into a third-place tie in the GBI league with Newton, after defeating the anchor men from Somerville High 4 to 1 at the Arena Saturday.

Locals remain three points and one game behind league leader Brookline, and one point behind Medford, which rates a second place after being defeated by Arlington the week before last.

Three first-period goals were tallied by the locals in the Somerville match, with that team showing its sole marker for the game.

First goal of the game was shot in by DeCaprio, an Arlington spare, who scored at 2:15 with an assist from Capello. This was added to at the 3-minute mark by a tally from Clarke, assisted by Toczykowski and Fredo.

Somerville started its brief climb at 8:27, when an unassisted goal was scored by wingman Aylward, making it a not-too-noticeable 2 to 1. Then Fraser pushed the puck past the opponents' net with assists from Fredo and Toczykowski, winding up a 3 to 1 first period.

Final scoring of the game was done by Fraser at 9:10 of the second round, who brought the puck through Somerville territory unassisted.

Locals have more than an outside chance of breaking into first, but would appreciate a defeat of Newton right about now. Other top contenders might be falaciously thought not as much of a threat, but watch out.

Medford dropped a little closer to the thirders by tying with Waltham, now in fifth, 2 to 2.

A little cheering up might do the 0, 1, 2, men a world of good about now. These, of course, are Somerville, Rindge and Cambridge Latin, the teams that are where some teams have to be.

Elected

BID FOR RE-ELECTION

To the editor,

May I, through the columns of your paper, announce my candidacy for re-election to the Board of Selectmen in the coming town election on Monday, March 4th.

It has been my privilege and honor to have served the people of Arlington for the past ten years in this office. During this period, I have accumulated a knowledge of town government which few candidates possess. I am, a taxpayer, father of five children, and a veteran.

I have always worked closely with the other members of the Board of Selectmen, and other town officials, to insure the kind of a community we can point to with pride.

In announcing my candidacy for re-election to this high office, I pledge my continued efforts in the interests of good government, and trust the voters will display their confidence by returning me to office at the Annual Town Election on March 4th.

If you feel that during my ten years in this office I have properly served you, then I request one of your two votes to continue this same service. Very truly yours, Joseph P. Greeley

Homemaker

Patti Brennecke of 62 Wollaston ave. has been named Homemaker of Tomorrow for Arlington High as the result of achieving the highest score in a local competition held in December. This was part of the nationwide competition, and as a result of winning the local competition she will be eligible for the title of Massachusetts Homemaker of Tomorrow. The sponsor of the competition is General Mills, and each state winner receives a $1500 scholarship.

Last year's Arlington High winner, Miss Nan Fitzpatrick, went on to become National Homemaker, and won a $5000 scholarship to Smith College, where she is now a freshman.

Should Miss Brennecke win the state competition, she will receive, in addition to the $1500 scholarship, an expense-paid trip to New York, Washington and Williamsburg, and be eligible for national scholarships as well.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brennecke, she is a member of the Dramatic Club and Allied Youth, and enjoys swimming, knitting, painting and drawing. She plans to attend college and go into the field of scientific research.

The Lessons Of Charity

Where exactly does charity begin? The sources for this subject have by now been exhausted and the message rather strained. Too often the point of saturation can lead people to pay no attention to the important things in life.

What is charity anyway? Well, the only ones who can tell you are those who have had plenty or those who have had little or none. We don't mean the crew of wailers and moaners. We mean the people who are forgotten. People hidden away in mental institutions and old people who are just existing, waiting for their time to come so they can get out of this selfish world.

There are 37 boys and girls from Arlington High school who really believe in charity. They don't ask a lot of questions, they learn the lessons of charity by serving those in need.

These youngsters go to the Veterans hospital every Tuesday and Wednesday to help care for the mentally maimed of four wars.

The pioneering work begun a year ago by Arlington High School students has caught the imagination of other school systems and awakened the spirit of service in their student bodies.

Why does our younger generation do these things? We hear so much about the things they do that they aren't supposed to do. The change is refreshing.

Youngsters of today need to be needed and kept busy doing things that are of benefit to the community as well as to themselves. Just a plain old run of the mill job isn't good enough for teenagers; they need responsibility. Being able to serve others and learn at the same time is pure gold.

These boys and girls are the modern pioneers of their own future security. Our community needs more like them and from the way it looks now, more are interested. With this service, the VA Hospital can be proud of its "staff" as much as Arlington is doubly proud of these "kids".

Suppose

Suppose you were running a business which had to pay its own way in every particular. And, then, suppose the government subsidized your competitors. And suppose, farther, that the government regulated your operation lock, stock and barrel — while your competitors were regulated to a much lesser extent, or were not regulated at all.

What kind of a fix would you be in? The answer to that is obvious. And this is the fix the railroads — our basic and essential domestic transportation agency — are in today and have been for years.

The railroads receive no subsidies, direct or indirect. But the government is continuing to spend billions ($14-billion in 1962 alone) on waterways, airways, highways and in other ways that add up to railroad competition. Then, to add insult to injury, the government, through the regulatory agencies, refuses to allow the railroads to make the most of their inherent advantages to meet that competition. For instance, it has often been decided that a railroad can't reduce its rates if that would have a damaging effect on the business of other carriers.

President Kennedy's inclusive transportation program goes before Congress once again. Its basic thought is that more reliance should be placed on competition and less on regulation. That is the way to bring about a sound and progressive transportation industry, geared to the needs of the nation. And that is the way to assure the users of transportation, of whatever kind, the best and most economical service.

Biased Toward Citizenry?

Henry J. Taylor, in a column dealing with some of the built-in inequities in the federal income tax system, wrote: "When a corporation's profit is paid in dividends, it is taxed twice, once when the enterprise earns it and again when the owner receives it."

This tax abuse is applied against no other form of organization in our country or against any other citizens except shareowners.

"We hear so much about discrimination at the expense of an unorganized minority: The 18 million shareowners in the nation."

A minority which is 18 million strong, even in a nation of some 180 million people, is a sizeable one by any standard. But the injustice done to all these people is, in a way, the least of the matter.

The real losers are the rest of us — who would benefit, in one fashion or another, if the huge sums of money confiscated by the double taxation, of which Mr. Taylor writes, were available for investment, spending, building — all of the actions and enterprises which create business and employment, and, of no small importance, also create fresh sources of tax revenue.

The new Congress, dealing at length as it must with problems of tax reform, should think this over.

That Man About Town

By MAT

We were chatting with a local painting contractor the other day. After kicking the gong around for a while, he said that his business is terrible. "I just can't compete with the Firemen of Arlington — and other towns".

The man said that recently he was forced to lay off two valuable men who had worked for him quite a few years. He recently bid about $600 on a job but lost to a couple of local firefighters who bid around $450. He pointed out they don't have to pay or buy workmen's comp, accident insurance, office, book-keeper, business phone, trucks etc., etc.

We have friends who have used this contractor and they say he is very reasonable as to price. The same thing is going on in all lines — plumbing, bar tending, carpentry, window washing, etc. — by municipal employees in all departments. It's a bad situation!

It is doubly bad because we agree that a man's off hours is his own business. He certainly has the "right to work" — 16-20 hours a day and, possibly kill himself. But, the Fireman has a distinct advantage because he is paid while sleeping at headquarters (and rightfully so). In this way he is able to build his work-week fast and has several completely free days during the seven. What's the answer, Chief Canniff?

Incidentally, we think we have one but we are not Chief.

As we have predicted, the March Town elections will be pretty drab, from the voters' standpoint. There are only two contests. Thus, the candidates — particularly the incumbents — have a tough job. Remember School Committee man Morine in March and Governor Volpe in November who were caught "looking"?

Of course, two no-contests occur for Town Clerk and Treasurer-Collector. Anybody would be crazy to try to unseat these two seatholders. First, TC Ann Mahon and Tres. Francis Coughlin are powerful vote-getters; these full-time jobs require experience and intelligence, which they have — at least the voting public agrees.

For Selectman, incumbents Greeley and Homer better watch out for Ed Murray who ran so well (but lost) the Dem nomination for State Rep last Sept. — his first time out here. In this race also are two others which will help the seat-sitters Anthony Caterino and Jesse Rogers.

Surprisingly enough, Bob Porteus pulled out by not filing for Selectman at the deadline Monday at 5 p.m. Shucks!

John Morine, former, long-time member, should have no trouble vs James Desmond for School Committee for the unexpired, 2-year term.

Evidently our school system is above reproach! For the first time in many, many years — and we are not going to bother to find out how many — that any three incumbents go unchallenged. In this historic situation are Dr. Richard Baker, Dr. Mary Carter and "just-little-old-me", Arthur Coughlin. Coughlin "operates" in the athletic equipment field for which there is no doctorate. However, he probably gets his honors, as most top salesmen do, through handsome bonuses, trips to Bermuda, gold tie clips, etc.

For election to Town Meeting member, the situation is a disgrace! WHEN are the Town's citizens and taxpayers going to realize that the Town Meeting appropriates EVERY nickel of the millions of dollars in the budget?

Over the entire country — among Democrats and Republicans, alike — there is a growing feeling of "what's the use; you just can't beat the White House." Kinamen, clansmen, townsmen, don't let it happen here — that you can't beat Town Hall!

Dear Mat:

One must agree with the person seeking your help about the condition of the streets. For all the money spent on them they are deplorable.

But this is to be expected if you visit a certain diner in the town any day at any time and you will see two, three, etc. trucks parked there. Compared to any public or private, employment anywhere else it is bare-face. Surely all these trucks and men are not all engaged at one end of the town.

Of course it may help to get overtime on certain Saturdays of the year. It adds up to poor supervision.

COLLINS
CORNER

The world is in good hands when over 800 men will gather in January to talk baseball.

That is what happened at the Hotel Bradford last week at the annual baseball writers dinner. For many years, in fact since 1938 these loyal fans have taken in this fine dinner to say again and again "wait until next year". These are not the fans who manage and umpire from their seats in the T.V. room, but the ones who really go out to the ball park and see for themselves.

Ballplayers and baseball celebrities from all over the country come to this affair, and the real fans get a great kick listening, watching, and talking to them. Many folks pay no attention to this sport, but like it or not, it is still our National Past-time, and if some of our Communistic Countries tried it maybe the world would be in better shape. This is a high class, dressed-up affair, as all the guests at the head table are wearing the well known 'soup and fish'. The only time in history that a guest was allowed to sit 'up front' was William 'Bill' Week (as in wreck) because he is an amputee and has an allergy that prohibits him from wearing a tie.

The other famous non-tie wearer Mr. 'himself' Ted Williams attended one banquet, but he was wearing a Tuxedo with black tie. He has never attended since, and even though he was in Boston last week he failed to appear.

He shoots off about the baseball writers, but in fairness to them, they have nominated him over the years 8 times for various awards. Since 1918 the Red Sox have won the American League Pennant only once, that being in 1946. In 1918 the Sox not only won the pennant but went on to defeat the Chicago Cubs for the World's championship, and the second baseman on the Sox was a local boy from Arlington named Dave Shean, who still lives here and is very active.

Members of the 1946 team were presented last week and one can see fringes of gray hair creeping around their temples. Joe Cronin, Mike Higgins, Johnny Pesky, Bobby Doer, and Dom DiMaggio, were at the head table. A visitor that night was another member of that great DiMaggio family, Vincent, who played with the Braves, and was coming back after an absence of 20 years.

Time, and gray hair marches on, and each year a name or two is added to the list of some writer who has passed on.

From Arlington appears the names of Burt Whitman, former sporting editor of the Boston Herald, Herman Nickerson, George Carens, Larry Sweeney, who was boxing editor of the Boston Globe, and took a young cub reporter from the Boston Post to his first big fight at Shelby, Montana, between Jack Dempsey and Tom Gibbons.

The young man's name was Bill Cunningham who has also gone to his reward. Another of the absent brothers was Arthur Duffy who for many years wrote a column for the Boston Post. Duffy was the first human to run 100 yds. under 10 seconds and held the record for many years.

So with the days getting longer and the sun hotter — it won't be long before we hear the "Play Ball" shout again.

TRINITY BAPTIST

Members and guests gathered together at dinner recently, for the monthly meeting of Trinity Baptist Women's Fellowship.

White Cross chairman, Mrs. Harmon Hover, announced that Mrs. Flora Hudson had donated three new sewing machines in memory of her mother, Mrs. Effie Watson.

The speaker of the evening, introduced by Mrs. Kenneth Lee, Missionary Chairman, was Rev. Ernest Peter Jacob of Green Park Church, New Delhi, India. Rev. Jacob told that Christians are very much of a minority there; something like 24,000 out of a total population of 24 million; all living in a city the size of Boston.

Leaves For Paris

Colonel Paul H. Kenney of Arlington leaves this month for Paris, France, and his new assignment on the operations staff of NATO, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Before assuming his new post with NATO, Col. Kenney will attend a five-month school in Paris, beginning Feb. 5, to study the organization of NATO forces and political problems common to the multi-national military alliance.

The colonel, a World War II fighter ace, served for 18 months as director of operations for 32d North American Air Defense Command (NORAD) region with headquarters in Oklahoma City.

In October and November during the Cuban crisis Col. Kenney commanded Detachment 1 of Continental Aid Defense Command (CONAD) Task Force 32, located at Homestead Air Force Base, Fla.

His unit conducted around-the-clock surveillance of air traffic in the south Florida area during this two-month period. Detachment 1 controlled all air missions and sorties in the area and conducted intercepts of unidentified aircraft.

After entering the armed services in 1936, Col. Kenney attended pilot training and received his wings in January, 1943. During World War II he saw combat in the European Theater of Operations. Between August, 1943, and April, 1944, he flew 86 missions for 120 combat hours and became an "ace" by destroying six enemy aircraft. He was a prisoner of war from April, 1944, to May, 1945.

The colonel also flew combat missions during the Korean conflict, logging 180 hours in C-47 transport aircraft from 1950 to 1952. Before this assignment with 32d NORAD Region Col. Kenney was chief of plans and programs for the directorate of manpower and organization, Hq. U.S. Air Force, Washington, D. C.

Col. Kenney's decorations include the Purple Heart, the Air Medal, and the Distinguished Flying Cross with one oak leaf cluster. He is a graduate of the University of Alabama with a bachelor's degree in history and English. In 1961 he received his master's in history from the University of Maryland.

Accompanying Col. Kenney to Paris will be his wife, Katherine, and three of their four children, twin daughters Karen and Susan, 12 and son Paul Jr., 2. Eldest daughter Katherine, 16, will join the family after school ends in June.

AN APPEAL

David S. Claffin, administrator of the Mass. S.P.C.A.'s Angell Memorial Animal hospital, Boston, today issued an urgent appeal for bedding for the hospital.

"At the present time, the supply of blankets and sheeting is at a very low point," he said.

Claffin asks all animal lovers who have any clean discarded blankets or sheets which can be spared to send the materials to the Angell Memorial Animal hospital, 180 Longwood ave., Boston.

84 Years Young

Friends of the Cartullo Family attended a gala birthday party held for Mrs. Caroline Cartullo at her home, 20 Richardson ave., last Sunday evening, Jan. 27.

Mrs. Cartullo, mother of nine children and many grandchildren, remains active at 84. Her family, friends and neighbors joined her in the celebration of her birthday. Each year a birthday is arranged by her son, Ralph Cartullo, Office Manager of William F. Fitzmaurice, Inc. Electrical Contractors of Arlington.

Over fifty guests attended this affair this year. Miss Frances DeMaio, a sister of Mrs. Caroline Cartullo, recently celebrated her 80th birthday. The two octogenarians are inseparable, and both of them are as active as some women who are less than half of their age.

They run the household in the old-fashioned manner with their day starting at 7:00 A. M. and ending in the late evening with only occasional assistance in errands and shopping for supplies.

One son, Joseph Cartullo and his wife, Edella, arrived by plane from Louisiana to attend this party. "Joe" is Vice-President of a Southern steel company. In addition, her daughters Celeste and Tillie Cartullo, her son, Louis Cartullo, and her granddaughter, Carol Fitzgerald, all of whom are members of the household, were there. Other members of her immediate family who attended included John and Helen (Cartullo) Bresnahan of Arlington, and Alfred and Philomena Cartullo of Medford.

Among the guests who were present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fitzmaurice of Arlington, and many other friends and neighbors who added to the conviviality of the party, some of whom have lived in Arlington from the time of the pre-war era when the "Cartullo block" on Massachusetts ave. was well known.

CAMP REGISTRAR

Miss Mary E. Leveroni of Arlington, who directs Camp Menotomy of the Arlington Girl Scouts, will serve as a registrar at the Region 1 Convention of the American Camping Association to be held Feb. 1-2, at the Hotel Statler Hilton, Boston.

Miss Leveroni is also a member of the Program Committee which planned the extensive two-day meeting that brings 1500 educators and camping authorities to Boston from the six New England states.

The New England Camping Association, in which Miss Leveroni has been active for many years, is Region 1 of the National standard-setting organization for youth camps the American Camping Association.

Data Machines Voted For AHS By Sch. Comm.

Data Processing equipment for Arlington High school was voted in by the School Committee Monday night, with a general IBM course expected to be prepared for next September.

A maximum cost to the Town for a one-year period of the course was estimated by Dr. Roens, Supt. of Schools, at $15,000. Half of this amount would be reimbursed to the Town.

Post-graduates alone, from Arlington and other communities, would be eligible for the general course, which is expected to be held during after-school hours until 10 p.m.

Along with benefits to be obtained by students from the course, Roens explained that the equipment would prove invaluable in the processing of work assignments and report cards.

Federal funds, which are available for such projects, are to be used for the initial step, appropriating $9,000.

All equipment is to be used on a rental basis. Included in the experimental project is a State appropriation of $11,400 for installation of IBM machines at Arlington Vocational school.

Roens stated that the course could eventually be designed to be included in the regular high school curriculum, teaching youngsters programming methods with IBM.

April: John Gerrior, Stu Haskins, Bill Houser, May: Jack Katz, Otto Nau, Arthur Maranian.

Board of directors meeting will be held Tuesday night, Feb. 5, at Igo's Restaurant in Porter Square at 6:15 p.m.

Adult Education Head Resigns

After getting another school year safely under way, Luke E. McCarthy resigned shortly before Christmas as director of Adult Education and principal of the Arlington evening schools.

He is widely known as an authority on adult or "continuing education" and as a participant member in State and national adult education associations. He has been director locally for many years.

"During this time he has built the Arlington program into one of the most outstanding in New England winning frequent praise from the highest authorities in the State Department of Education and elsewhere as well as the enthusiastic approval of thousands of local adult alumni," an adult education enthusiast told this paper this week.

He has been developing preliminary survey plans for further expansion of the local program with new courses in liberal and general education, art, music, oil painting, foreign languages, home economics, personality development, psychology, remedial reading, mental health, great books and other offerings.

McCarthy who has completed a book on the philosophy and administration of adult education and life-long learning, has assisted other communities in initiating and developing their own adult programs.

He declared that his principal reason for resigning was that he had never been given a salary increase since his original appointment as director years ago.

Edmund Lewis, principal of the Arlington Technical High school, is serving as acting director.

Elected Jaycees President

Richard A. Jones of 292 Oakland ave. has been elected the first President of the Arlington Junior Chamber of Commerce. Jones, the father of two, is Assistant Treasurer of the Arlington Cooperative Bank.

Other officers elected at last Thursday's meeting were William Caldwell, external vice president; Leonard Wengstrom, internal vice president; John Walkinshaw, secretary; and Peter Hayes, treasurer. Formal installation is set for a dinner meeting at the China Mill Restaurant on Feb. 18.

The Arlington Junior Chamber of Commerce has been operating with temporary officers since its formation last Fall. The Chapter was recognized this week by the State Junior Chamber when it signed up its twenty-fifth paid member. The Jaycees are a service organization open to all young men of good character between the ages of 21 and 35.

Arlington Jaycees hold their next meeting Feb. 7 at 8 p.m. at Marine Corps League Hall, 13A Medford st.

that will blend in with the atmosphere of the town and customers now going out of town to shop, will be accommodated by the new Star in the center of Arlington.

Allan Igo, chairman of the Commission, stated that the Town Yard property was advertised widely and all possible efforts were made on the part of the commission to promote the sale of this land in the town's best interests.

Horace H. Homer, chairman of the Board of Selectmen said that the commission had more than performed its duty and the Selectmen were "satisfied with their work."

As to the statement made by the spokesman for the merchants that a Star market would threaten their lives, Blodeau said that good competition is "part of the American way of life and our entire economy is built on competition."

Mr. Mugar, another spokesman for the Star Market Co. said that, in reference to the land on Route 2, no negotiations were considered at any time by Star from Arthur D. Little Co. for that property. He stated that besides the 25,000 square feet reserved for the market itself, there will be a Gilchrist store and an area for parking. They will not rent to other small businesses but use the space themselves.

John Mirak of the Development Commission said, "This commission was formed five years ago and that was 25 years too late. If this commission is to work, it must work on re-development. The sale of the Town Yard has been in process for three years now and everybody knew about it. It doesn't matter how it is sold or to whom; but what is done with it, in the best interest of the town."

The Board of Selectmen has not yet taken any action.

Congregational Church To Erect New Spire

At a meeting of the members of Pleasant Street Congregational Church, assembled in the Fellowship hall last Friday for the Annual Meeting, the members voted to proceed with the erection of a spire on the present tower base, with the expectation that the new structure would be in place some time during the summer of 1963.

The new spire, the design of which is to be in general accordance with plans already approved by a Steeple Committee of 1962, by the Executive Board of the Church, and by the members, is conceived of as a simple yet beautiful tapering spire of colonial design to match the church, rising to a height of approximately 120 feet above the ground.

If the present plans are followed throughout, the base of the new structure, where it joins the old tower and is placed upon it, will be of wood, upon a steel frame. The spire itself will be some sixty feet in height, and will be of lead-coated copper. The entire new structure will be painted white, as is the rest of the church. The spire will replace a steeple which was badly damaged in the great New England Hurricane, and subsequently had to be taken down.

Reports on the activities of the year were received from the Rev. Stuart C. Haskins, Minister of the Church, from the Rev. Arthur M. Anderson, Associate and Minister of Christian Education, and from the officers and boards and committees of the church.

Appropriations of approximately $52,000 were approved by the church members for the year 1963, of which approximately $42,000 were for the operating expenses of the church, and $10,000 were for missions and benevolences.

The following persons were elected to office for the year 1963: John O. Parker, Moderator; Kenneth M. Barney, Clerk; Richard C. Sargent,

Treasurer; Melvin F. H. Jay and Ralph F. Tuller, Deacons; Mrs. Paul A. Cameron, Miss Marion Crampton, Mrs. William J. Hyde and Miss Catherine Richards, Deaconesses; Edmund J. Red and Gray Jottings

by Connie Mugnai

On Saturday, Jan. 26, it was this writer's pleasure to attend this year's second press conference of the high school correspondents, writing for the Boston Herald-Traveler.

The banquet was held at the Hotel Kenmore where some one hundred promising young journalists assembled. Representing the high schools in the Boston area, the teens contribute to the Teen World column printed bi-weekly. Present at the banquet were Miss Dorothy Diaz, the director of the Teen Column, and Alta Maloney, noted theatre critic.

But we teens had the feeling that someone special was to be our guest when we saw the specially reserved banquet table. We weren't disappointed. As Alta Maloney so aptly put it, "Instead of dessert, you teens are going to have Peter Ustinov, and in came Mr. Ustinov, presently in Boston for the pre-Broadway opening of his new play "Photo Finish" at the Colonial.

A combination of writer, producer, director, and actor, Peter Ustinov answered the questions that the teens asked. As to method acting, Mr. Ustinov had this to say: "Method acting is a map without a scale... the best school of acting is still in the street... The real actors are those who use method acting without knowing it." He described theatres as "large melancholy buildings." But when asked which country had the best developed theatre, he replied, "Germany. (It has) a civic theatre supported by the community... where each community has a fine actor."

Unfortunately, Mr. Ustinov had to leave at one forty-five for his matinee of "Photo Finish". His public relations manager, looking at Ustinov's half-empty dinner plate, said, "What about the meat?"

"Put it in a bag..." was Peter Ustinov's quick response.

Mr. Otto Preminger, also made an appearance. The teens were invited to a luncheon with him on the movie set of "The Cardinal" which will be filmed in Boston sometime during February.

Then Alta Maloney addressed the group and spoke on her career as a theatre critic. Being a critic, she explained, is a difficult job. It is recording "what I think the audience thinks..." The question was raised, why do some critics leave the movie after ten minutes? "You don't have to eat a whole egg to know that it's rotten," returned Miss Maloney.

How does she treat a review? I have to be as honest as I can be. It's a very difficult thing to do — it's so easy to be funny... Alta Maloney also tries to avoid preconceptions on the play she's about to see.

One eager teen asked if Mr. Preminger meant what he said about the invitation to luncheon. Tongue-in-check, Miss Maloney answered, "If he doesn't, I won't give him any space in my column!"

Woman Suffrage? —
Governor Needs More Power - LWV

"The office of the governor of Massachusetts needs strengthening" is the prevailing opinion of the members of the Arlington League of Women Voters. Mrs. Alan S. Tait, chairman of the Constitutional Revision Committee presented the consensus to the directors at their January meeting.

In the January units, members expressed their willingness for the League to support various reforms in order to achieve strengthening of the governor's post.

Though the theory of a shorter ballot was favored, there was no general agreement on how short it should be or which offices should be eliminated. There was a strong consensus that governor and lt. governor should run as a team. Many felt that the auditor should not be appointed by the governor.

Elimination of the Executive Council from the constitution was proposed. Some members favored cancelling the Council's statutory powers by the Legislature in the meantime.

If the governor's term of office is increased to four years, the Arlington League will support measures to empower the governor to reorganize the executive and administrative departments in a manner similar to the Federal Government. The majority favored allowing the governor to appoint his own department heads, but there was some question as to the advisability of having the terms of all department heads coterminous with the governor.

This is the League's second year of study of the state constitution and its provisions.

Lions Sponsor
Speedskating Races

The Arlington Lions Club has announced that they will conduct their fourth Annual Speedskating Championships on Feb. 23, at the M.D.C. rink on route 2, Belmont.

Chairman Frank Kirkland, of 35 Stone rd. suggests that all boys and girls under the ages of 14 who wish to enter this event do so as soon as possible.

A trophy will be presented, engraved with the class, year and event for the first, second and third place finisher in each class. As a reminder, the "classes" are, Pee Wee Girls and Boys, under eight yrs. of age, Special Midget Girls and Boys, eight and nine yrs. of age, Midget girls and Boys, ten and eleven years of age, and Juvenile girls and boys, twelve and thirteen years old. Girls will compete against girls and boys against boys of their own age.

This year, the races will be conducted on one day only, on Feb. 23, from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m., persons who enter this event must report to a given place at least an hour ahead of time in order to check each skater into the race he or she belongs. The time and place will be announced at a later date.

Registered amateurs from all over New England, New York and New Jersey are expected to attend and compete in classes similar to those of the local novices, with the feature being a two mile race for senior men.

No person who is or ever was a registered amateur may compete against any novice in their class but must compete as such in their own class.

Two Contests — political observers last September when he ran a very close third for the Democratic nomination for State Representative.

The only other contest is for the 2-year unexpired term for School Committee. This seat was vacated when Edward McCann was appointed by Town Manager Monahan as his administrative assistant.

In 1962, McCann startled many when he defeated John P. Morine, a long-time member of the Committee, to win the third spot behind incumbent-winners, Baker and Carter.

This year Morine is seeking to reseat himself on the Committee. After McCann was named to his present post, Morine was appointed back onto the School Committee by the other eight members for one year. Thus, he comes up for election — not "re-election" — this year.

Morine is being opposed by James C. Desmond of 52 Davis ave. Up to the final moments, before the deadline, there was doubt whether Desmond would actually file. He did so about one minute before 1 p.m.

Many No-Contests
Among the other non-contested offices is that for Housing Authority. Edward J. Doherty, incumbent, has no opposition.

The political picture, as to contests, worsens for Town Meeting members.

In Precincts 1 and 2, there are no contests either for the full 3-year term or the 1 and 2, unexpired.

In Prec. 4, possible winners will be important. For the 1-year vacancy, there is only one candidate for three openings. There is no candidate for the 2-year vacancy and only five running for six spots for the full term.

The same, over-all situation exists in Precincts 5, 9 and 12.

In all, according to Town Clerk Mahon, for Town Meeting member there are only 96 candidates for 81 full, 3-year, unexpired terms; 11 for 12, one year.

Observers define the situation as "ridiculous, undemocratic, the worst in years."

The Good Samaritan Circle of Kings Daughters & Sons, met at the home of Mrs. George Sencabaugh recently to roll bandages for the Red Cross.

COMMENDATION
To the editor,

I would like publicly to thank and commend the Fire and Police Departments of the Town of Arlington for their speed and efficiency in responding to an emergency at my home on the night of Jan. 26.

Their tremendous effort saved the life of a foster child in my care. In particular I would like to express my gratitude to the Fire Department Lieutenant, whose name I do know, who accompanied the sick child with oxygen to the hospital. Once again I would like to say thank-you to both the Fire and Police Departments of this town.

Sincerely yours,
William M. Sheehan

Dear Mat:
If parking meters are O.K. for the merchants in the Center and in East Arlington why should they be so objectionable in the Heights?

I think if it were looked into you would find that most of the objections are coming from those who park all day on the street (such as Caterino) and from those who do most of their business by phone and the only parking problem they have is their own car which is on the street most of the time.

When all day parkers in the street are removed, the parking situation will improve a lot and meters are one way of doing it.

The Arlington School Department is releasing the following information which may be of interest to the local citizenry. This chart is a compilation of statistics from the Massachusetts Department of Education and the Research Department of the Massachusetts Teachers' Association. All figures may be verified upon request from the Superintendent's Office.

Communities listed represent those which border upon Arlington and are either comparable in size or are school systems who normally compete with Arlington for good teachers. Also included are school systems which are recognized throughout the State as being interested in high quality education.

The first column represents the latest official figures of per pupil support published by the State. It is interesting to note that only 5 out of the 21 communities listed have a lower per pupil cost than Arlington while 15 are higher, some by more than $150 per pupil. It is a rule of thumb to equate schools in terms of per pupil costs. Those with high per pupil costs are considered better than those with lower per pupil costs. Because of the efficient and economical manner in which the Arlington schools are operated, it is our opinion that we have been able to provide a sound school system with a comparatively low per pupil cost.

The second column indicates the cost per pupil after State Aid has been deducted and represents only what is being paid from local taxes. The third column shows the percentage of the local taxes spent for school support. Here again Arlington's tax dollar for schools is significantly lower than other towns around it. The national average is over 50% while many communities in other states regularly spend from 80% to 90% of the tax dollar for education.

The last two columns are important factors to consider. The figures given indicate that the pupil-teacher ratio is high. It is likely that they are fast approaching a position where they cannot be increased further without adverse effects on the quality of teaching. The numbers of high school graduates getting into first rate colleges and the test scores of the elementary school youngsters indicate that our pupils are doing very well under present circumstances. Experience has shown however, that as classes grow larger, the quality of instruction diminishes. It is, therefore, advisable to keep the pupil-teacher ratio as low as possible consistent with a community's willingness and ability to pay.

Arlington Affairs Subject Of Meetings

The Local Affairs Committee of the League of Women Voters has planned next week's meetings of the League. Committee members have visited and studied all Town boards. They will present their findings and lead discussion on administration, finance, planning and building, public works and parks, and health and welfare.

"These are important times to Arlington residents", says Mrs. Richard A. Jones, chairman of the committee. "What is proposed and the decisions made in the town government will affect our lives and our children for years to come."

Committee members are Mesdames Burnett Baron, Eugene Gross, Richard A. Jones, Melvin Levin, Richard Mela, Dietmar Seyferth, Philip Thayer and Albert Wodwin.

"They have spent many hours collecting information and summarizing it to present accurate facts to the meetings," Mrs. Jones said. Four discussion meetings are scheduled for next Tuesday through Thursday in different parts of Arlington and at different times. Group meetings are small to allow for discussion.

Any interested woman voter in Arlington is welcome to attend any of the unit meetings.

Anyone wishing further information or transportation to one of the meetings is invited to telephone Mrs. Richard Malatesta.

Special Course For Housewives

The Harvard Graduate School of Education's experimental, part-time plan of study for housewives who wish to become teachers, is one year old.

Seventeen Greater Boston housewives—all of them college graduates, and ranging in age from 23 to 41—are now enrolled in the Extended Course of Study for Women, which started in February, 1962. Together, they have 39 children.

The first group of them expect to receive the M.A. in Teaching degree, for high school teaching, in June, 1963. Candidates for the Ed.M. degree, for elementary school teaching, will receive degrees at later dates.

The City of Newton is co-sponsoring the training of the prospective elementary school teachers.

A few of the women plan to teach full-time as soon as they have received their degrees. Others will start out as part-time teachers—doing tutoring, substituting, contract correcting, or working as members of team teaching groups. All plan to teach full-time at some future date.

The prospective teachers hold degrees from nine colleges and universities—Barnard, Berne, Brandeis, Bryn Mawr, Emmanuel, Maryland, Radcliffe, Smith and Wellesley. On the average, they have been out of college more than 10 years.

The idea behind part-time teacher training, which is being given a three-year trial at Harvard, is to attract to teaching married women in their 20's who can do part-time teaching for several years; and older married women who can become full-time teachers in a few years.

While part-time students, the women are able to participate in practice teaching and observation. A number of them, whose children attend schools where new curriculum ideas have been started, are more familiar with teaching innovations than recent college graduates.

The nine women studying for the M.A. in teaching must complete their requirements for the degree within two years. The eight women who are candidates for the Ed.M. may take longer. Ordinarily, a full-time student earns one of these degrees in one year of study.

Overseeing the work of the M.A. in Teaching candidates, under the direction of Dr. Theodore R. Sizler, is Mrs. Ada Levi, a candidate for the Ed.D.

Under Prof. Robert H. Anderson, Miss Nancy Woods, who is doing research on the experiences of the housewives in Extended Course of Study of Women, supervises and guides the work of the eight women studying to be elementary school teachers.

The 17 women were selected from more than 250 applicants, for their college records and their desire to become teachers. The next class, starting in September, will be limited to 24 women.

The husbands of the women now in the program hold such positions as government worker, corporation president, doctor, elementary school teacher, engineer, graduate student, physicist, psychologist, real estate salesman, school principal, and university professor.

Library Show

The public is cordially invited to see "Prints—The Why and Wherefore", the first of a series of exhibitions sponsored by the Robbins Print Collection. It may be seen from Jan. 28 through Feb. 20 every day except Sundays in the gallery of the Robbins Library at 700 Mass. ave. The hours will be weekdays: 2-6 p.m. and 7-9 p.m. Saturdays: 9-12 a.m. and 2-6 p.m.

Assembled by the Kennedy Galleries, Inc. of New York, where the exhibit has recently been shown with great success, it numbers fifty-eight works by outstanding artists illustrating different kinds of print making and accompanied by explanatory notes. Degas, Durer, Homer, Koll-witz, Picasso, Rouault, and Van Dyck are among the artists whose prints are represented in the collection. Methods illustrated include etching, engraving, woodcut and lithograph. It is planned that this exhibit of prints will be followed by others according to Miss Ellen P. Wiese, Curator of Robbins Print Collection. "There is currently a new enthusiasm for prints as an art form," she said, "and Arlington citizens can be proud that its own fine Robbins Print Collection enables it to be a center for this growing interest."

Mrs. Jeremy A. Coulter is in charge of the committee for hostesses at the exhibition. During the first week

Wanderland To Be Garden Show Site

The largest New England Spring Flower Show ever held at Wanderland Park in Revere, will open its doors to the public on March 16 through 24.

This nine-day show, allows two full week ends in which to view this greater Boston event.

In addition to the New Section, opened last year, this year's floral displays will cover a greater area, a new 20,000 square foot Patio just beyond the main entrance. Enclosed for the first time, it will give the Flower Show a new look. It is expected to recapture the impact that visitors first experienced in the old Mechanics Building in Boston.

Some of the more striking and dramatic exhibits by leading nurserymen and horticulturists will be staged in this new area. Fountains, pools and plantings with colorful flowering trees and shrubs will greet the visitor in the floral wonderland.

"Gardens In These United States" is the theme selected for the eleven small gardens by the garden clubs of the Women's Exhibitions Committee.

For their Flower Arrangement Section, members of the Mass. Garden Club Federation have adopted the theme of "Changing Patterns."
